YOUR LOVING, RESPONSIBLE NATURE— AND YOUR UNACKNOWLEDGED NEEDS

Your 6 Life Path And 6 Soul Urge

You have the innate ability to comfort, help and serve others less able than yourself. You probably devote much of your effort to other people. The closeness of marriage and the pleasures of long term friendships are likely to be of considerable importance in your life. When you're working, you usually prefer being part of a group rather than working alone.

One of your major lessons in life is to learn the special satisfactions that come from responsibility. Since others will recognize your caring ways and turn to you for help, you're apt to commit yourself to far more than your fair share. Although your sense of responsibility is one of your strengths, you may have to learn that you don't have to be responsible for everything.

You're sympathetic, appreciative, kind, and generous, with a considerable understanding of other people's feelings. You have deep feelings yourself and often express them in a clear and direct manner. At times, you may get too emotional and find that you have difficulty saying what you want clearly enough so that others understand. At other times, you're apt to express only part of your feelings in order to avoid expected criticism. On occasion, you may become worried or anxious, and your fault-finding manner is likely to upset those who prefer your gentler side.

Much of your activity is apt to revolve around your home and family. Your spouse, children and others who are lucky enough to be in your intimate circle of relatives and friends enjoy your friendly, affectionate and loving ways and probably give you love and affection in return.

You're the one in the family who helps settle arguments and keeps everything running smoothly, and you'll be called on to help when the situation is out of balance. You don't always acknowledge your own needs, and run the risk of becoming a doormat. You can be self-sacrificing, but you have to be careful to limit the exacting demands to which you respond so you don't get overwhelmed. You have to learn not to expect anywhere near your own selfless approach from your family and friends. You'll have to learn, not to repress your own needs and to recognize and take care of your interests so you don't get frustrated and resentful.

Some people with your chart configuration neglect their responsibilities when they interfere with other activities. If you find yourself avoiding obligations, you may have to learn about the satisfaction of giving to others, and you should distinguish between helping and interfering.

With your flexibility, patience, and feeling for others, you can work well with the young, the old, and the ill. There's an artistic side to you, and you may enjoy expressing in music or other artistic endeavors. The beauty of your home and surroundings are likely to be of concern to you.

Your 6 Challenge

In your youth, you may find yourself running into obstacles because of your insistence on rigorous standards. Others may react coolly to your self-righteous, authoritarian or intolerant manner. You may feel that nobody measures up to your superior principles or shows appreciation of your struggle for higher values. You have to learn to allow others to set their own pace and make their own rules. If you can express unconditional acceptance along with your kind and generous ways, you can receive considerable appreciation.

Your 9 Intensity Point

You probably find yourself, at times, in heavy emotional situations which may tax your sensitive and giving nature to its maximum. There are likely to be upsets and disappointments in each of these situations, and it will take effort to reach anything approaching a comfortable conclusion. Although you're considerably responsive to others, you may have to learn to express more than you do in the way of sympathy, compassion, and tolerance. No matter how much you give, you may have to learn to give even more of yourself. The more clearly you understand your feelings and can express your emotions, the better you will probably be able to handle these encounters.

The Repeated 6's Deleted In Your Current Name

With your current name, you tend to express more of your needs and make sure to have those needs fulfilled. You can discriminate now between the responsibilities you want to accept and those which belong on others' shoulders. Although you may be self-sacrificing, you keep your giving within comfortable limits and make fewer exacting demands on yourself and your family.

YOUR ANALYTICAL AND SPIRITUAL NATURE— AND STRONG INTROSPECTIVE SIDE

Your 7 Expression

You have a fine analytical mind. Others will recognize your ability to understand fundamental truths and to search for ultimate meanings. They may turn to you for your knowledge and wisdom. You may choose a line of work involving technical, scientific, or philosophical studies. You probably spend time working to achieve the peace of mind that is important to you.

You have good intuition. Although you may not always be comfortable with it, you should learn to trust that intuition because it can bring you to the highest levels of understanding. You may have considerable interest in spiritual matters—religious, psychic or metaphysical. Many people, though, don't begin to show their spiritual side until their thirties or later, and some people choose not to use it at all. If you aren't in touch with your spiritual awareness, you may want to learn to develop this special attribute in order to reach the highest levels of understanding.

One of your strengths is the very logical, rational manner in which you approach the problems you're trying to solve. Your ability to analyze, judge and discriminate is well-developed. Others appreciate the unusually objective viewpoint that you present. You enjoy research and study. If you choose to share your knowledge, you could be a fine teacher. You have considerable leadership ability, particularly when you show your low-key, but extremely intense, enthusiasm.

You may pride yourself on keeping your most intense emotions to yourself so as not to interfere with your keen mental abilities. If you're repressing some of your deep feelings, you're going to have difficulty trying to understand others' emotions. People are likely to see you as relatively introspective and self-contained. Others may be put off, on occasion, by your cool and aloof manner. To relieve these problems, you may want to work to better express your intense feelings. In a related vein, you may want to work to become comfortable in giving and receiving affection.

In some periods of your life, you may spend much time alone. You may do this by choice, in order to meditate or study, or because there may not be anyone around with whom you care to form a close relationship. You may have to learn how to spend time by yourself and feel comfortable. At times, when you're alone, you may get lost in your dreams or fantasies and this may sometimes be a source of your creative inspiration. There's a nervous tension that you probably feel from time to time. Others may not even be aware of this nervousness since you may keep it well hidden behind a reserved facade.

You're often on a different wavelength than other people. This can be a considerable strength because it gives you the capability of unique approaches to problems as well as the possibility of unusual solutions. Because of that different wavelength, though, people occasionally may have difficulty in getting to know you or in fully understanding you. When you can communicate your intense feelings clearly and directly, you'll probably have much less difficulty with other people.

Your 16/7 Karmic Debt

Your growth will probably follow your own leanings and, since you often keep your motives and feelings to yourself, your actions may often not be what others expect. You may frequently confuse or upset some of your friends and associates, even people who think they know you well. You'll have to work on reducing the effects of your strong introspective side if you want to get on better with other people. It will probably take considerable effort on your part to maintain a comfortable permanent relation with a spouse or business partner.

There may be a few times in your life when there are abrupt or unusual changes in career situations which appeared to be relatively stable. You may find it easier to accept these changes if you can see that these matters are not completely in your control.

Your 7 Modified Karmic Lesson

Although you have the potential to develop your spiritual side, you may devote only limited attention to this area, particularly in your younger years. Faith in spiritual values, though, is likely to be an important key to your growth. As you express an active interest, you'll begin to achieve the peace of mind which you'd like to have. As you grow in spiritual understanding, you're likely to be pleasantly surprised at how much improvement you find in your life.

YOUR SOCIAL AND CREATIVE SIDE

Your 3 Birthday

There's a charming and gracious side of you which is displayed when you're comfortable with close friends. You have a good imagination and may enjoy creative pursuits. At times when you feel particularly uncomfortable, though, you can be critical, oversensitive or moody. You probably possess good verbal ability and it wouldn't be surprising if you sometimes involve yourself in activities related to words. You may have some singing or acting talent, or you may enjoy writing or lecturing. You're probably a good conversationalist. During your youth and adolescence, it wouldn't be surprising if you display only a little of your social grace and creative ability. As you get older, these traits will probably be exhibited more frequently.

You can be reasonably adaptable when you want to be. There's a good chance that you have many interests and move easily from one activity to another. Some of the time, you're likely to scatter your energies among your varied interests in whimsical or careless ways which keep you from accomplishing what you want. It may be helpful to learn to limit your interests or curtail some of your frivolous or superficial activities so as to achieve more of your desired goals.

Your 5 Intensity Point

Although there are likely to be many opportunities in your life, you don't derive as much benefit from those opportunities as you might expect. You may limit your experiences because of your fear of change and uncertainty. You often approach situations with your mind made up so that you have little understanding of the lessons you could learn if you were more open-minded. You tend to stay involved with situations or relationships long after the productivity is exhausted.

YOUR PRACTICAL, BUSINESSLIKE SIDE

The Added 1, 4, 8 Energy In Your Current Name

With your current name, the practical side of your character is likely to be more important. You may be more active in the business world, displaying leadership, and organizational and managerial capabilities. You can be a good judge of character and may handle money creatively. You're able to work long and hard in order to attain your goals. There are probably times, though, when you strain, in an overambitious way, to achieve recognition or to acquire power. You may also put considerable pressure on yourself to satisfy your material needs.

Your 8 Karmic Lesson

You have to learn how to deal with money comfortably in your personal life. You may worry that you never have enough money, or you may have an unrealistic view of how far your earnings will go. You may buy things you really can't afford, or you may be afraid to buy things although the cost is well within your income. Until you can deal with your personal finances with ease, you may be subject to uncomfortable pressures related to financial dependence, or you may waste considerable time and effort in unproductive earning attempts.

Your 1 Intensity Point

Your early years were marked by lack of confidence. You may hide your insecurity with a show of bravado, but probably aren't good at masking your vulnerability. In your youth, you looked to others for direction and were pressured by others' decisions because of fear of charting your own course. You'll probably have difficulty promoting yourself. As you grow older, you'll gain more self-confidence.
